Four Gifts of Story (Baldwin and Linnea, 2010)

Context	Relationship	Vicarious Learning	Cohesive Action, Expanded Consciousness
• Setting in which experience happens • Listeners identify with it--relatable • Listeners can track; understand impact and importance	• Relationship exists between the storyteller and the listener • Evokes emotion, feeling • We care about the situation and the people within it	• We become part of the story • We evaluate, anticipate • We activate imagination, empathy, and concern • We remember	• Story is a universal teacher • We expand our sense of choice • We identify with those who we may not have identified with before
